More than 5,000 visit Weyerhaeuser

More than 5,000 people attended the day-long open house at the Weyerhaeuser Grayling Structurwood Facility Saturday. Rodger Anger, General Manager of the Weyerhaeuser Structurwood Plant, stated that "We were overwhelmed by the response of the community to our Tenth Anniversary Open House Saturday." The celebration included mill and forest tours, barbecue, displays, and special tributes presented to Anger by David Svanda, Northern Michigan representative for Governor John Engler, Grayling Mayor Robert Gohnick, Beaver Creek Township Supervisor John Hartman, Jeannette Kitchen for Senator John Pridonia, and Bob Schellhas for David Camp. Saturday was proclaimed "Weyerhaeuser Recognition Day" in Crawford County by the county commissioners.

"We were extremely pleased by the number of who turned out to help us celebrate our ten years in the area, and know from the positive comments we received that people enjoyed meeting our people and learning about our business. We look forward to continued growth and success for years to come," said Anger.

State Dept. of Education okays VISION 2000 school bond issue

The Crawford AuSable School District just received preliminary authorization to hold an election for a bond issue designed to help move the district into the 21st century.

Robert Schiller, Superintendent of Public Instruction for the Michigan Department of Education, granted written permission to the Board of Education to take official action calling for an election on September 26.

"We are pleased that the State of Michigan has determined that the Vision 2000 project meets the needs of the district and community and authorized the board to present the bond issue to voters September 26," said Chris Dunckley, board president.

If passed, the $25 million bond proposal will be used to:

- erect, furnish and equip a new high school.

- erect, furnish and equip an addition to, partially remodel and partially re-equip the present high school for use as a middle school.

- erect, furnish and equip an addition to, partially remodel and partially re-equip Grayling Elementary and Frederic Elementary Schools.

- partially remodel and partially re-equip the middle school for use as an upper elementary school.

- acquire additional land for constructing, equipping and/or improving playgrounds, outdoor physical education and athletic facilities; and developing and improving sites.

- purchase and install technology equipment and systems in all the schools.

The board approved the bond issue at a special meeting, held July 20.

Carson & Barnes circus comes to town Tuesday

When the Carson & Barnes Circus packs to leave town, it is with a sense of satisfaction and joy—for the circus as well as the local community. The town has seen dedicated performers, jugglers, flyers, tight wire walkers, contortionists, clowns, animal trainers and many more acts and attractions. And the action starts long before the performance begins.

Early circus morning, more than 60 trucks and trailers move onto the circus lot. As the gigantic 396-foot big top is laid out and made ready to be raised, the trucks carrying the gigantic zoo arrive on the grounds. The 100 animals are unloaded, watered and fed as the public is invited to watch the circus city come alive.

Some of the 20 elephants will be used to raise the big top. Others will give elephant rides to delighted youngsters. The menagerie of exotic beasts, open free to all on circus morning, also includes lions and tigers, a rare white rhinoceros, camels, llama, zebras, pygmy hippo, horses, Sicilian donkey and assorted others.

Carson & Barnes 5-Ring Circus comes to Grayling for two shows at 2 and 8 p.m. on Tuesday, August 18. Tickets can be purchased in advance from the local sponsors at a reduced price. They are also available at the Circus box office on Circus day. Mastercard and Visa are accepted at the Circus box office.

Lowe looking toward November election

After a victory by a large margin over incumbent Ralph Ostling in the August 4 primary, Grayling native Allen Lowe is looking forward to the November election. Lowe, winner of the Republican nomination for 105th State House District seat, faces Democrat Tom Weiss, of Gaylord.

"It should be an interesting race against Weiss," said Lowe. "We're from the two largest population areas in the district."

Lowe defeated current State Representative Ralph Ostling, a 20-year veteran of the House, by more than 1,000 votes. Lowe collected 6,284 votes, Ostling 5,204, and Kent Tillitt, of Kalkaska, received 1,432.

Crawford County gave 1071 votes to Lowe and 558 to Ostling.

"I was really happy with the results from Crawford County," said Lowe. "It's nice to know the people want to support a local candidate."

Lowe, who was born and raised in Grayling, said his ties here in the district may be one of the things that will help him in November.

Plane crash near Howes Lake kills pilot and two passengers

By Nancy Lemmen

Three people were killed in a Crawford County airplane crash, discovered about 6:40 p.m. on August 6 in a heavily wooded area northwest of Howes Lake and approximately four miles west of Grayling McNamara Airport.

Victims included passengers Tamara Ames Behiry, 36, and her son, Brenton Perry, 2, both of Plymouth, and pilot Robert Lee Shirley, 67, of Livonia. Behiry had another child, Lynnette, 7, who was in New York at the time of the crash.

The plane, a four-seat Cessna 172 which departed from Canton Township's Mettetal Airport on August 1, had been the subject of a Civil Air Patrol search the past week.

The pilot's daughter filed an overdue aircraft report on August 3, after the plane's failure to arrive at its destination.

The Crawford County Sheriff Department was notified of a downed aircraft at 7:19 p.m. on August 6. A civilian airplane flying overhead spotted the plane, then relayed information to the department through the airport and the Camp Grayling.

Air safety investigator Bob Vallaster, of the National Transportation Safety Board (NTSB), arrived at the crash site Friday morning, as did an official from the Federal Aviation Administration (FAA).

The plane appeared to have been flying north to south at a five- to ten-degree angle, and entered the trees in a rather shallow descent, said Vallaster.

The aircraft was badly broken up, with wreckage strewn over several hundred feet.

"It hit multiple, substantial trees," said Vallaster. "Planes are strong, but they're meant to deal with air. Striking something solid wrecks havoc on a plane."

National Guard personnel assisted ground rescuers in finding the downed craft by sending a helicopter to direct officers to the site, said Sgt. Timothy Coe of the Sheriff Department.

Although no flight plan had been filed, the plane was evidently traveling to a Behiry family gathering in Manistiquie, 375 miles away in the Upper Peninsula. A refueling stop at Pellston was also intended.

(Planes departing from small, uncontrolled airports are not required to file flight plans, nor are their departures and arrivals tracked. Neither are pilots required to communicate by radio.)

Vince Caruso, of Frederic Township, said he and his family heard a plane fly low over their house on the Manistee River Saturday, August 1.

"It was about 11 p.m. and we were all watching the Olympics on television," he said. "It was pouring rain outside and we heard a plane go over full bore at treetops level. We all had the same reaction that the plane was going to crash."

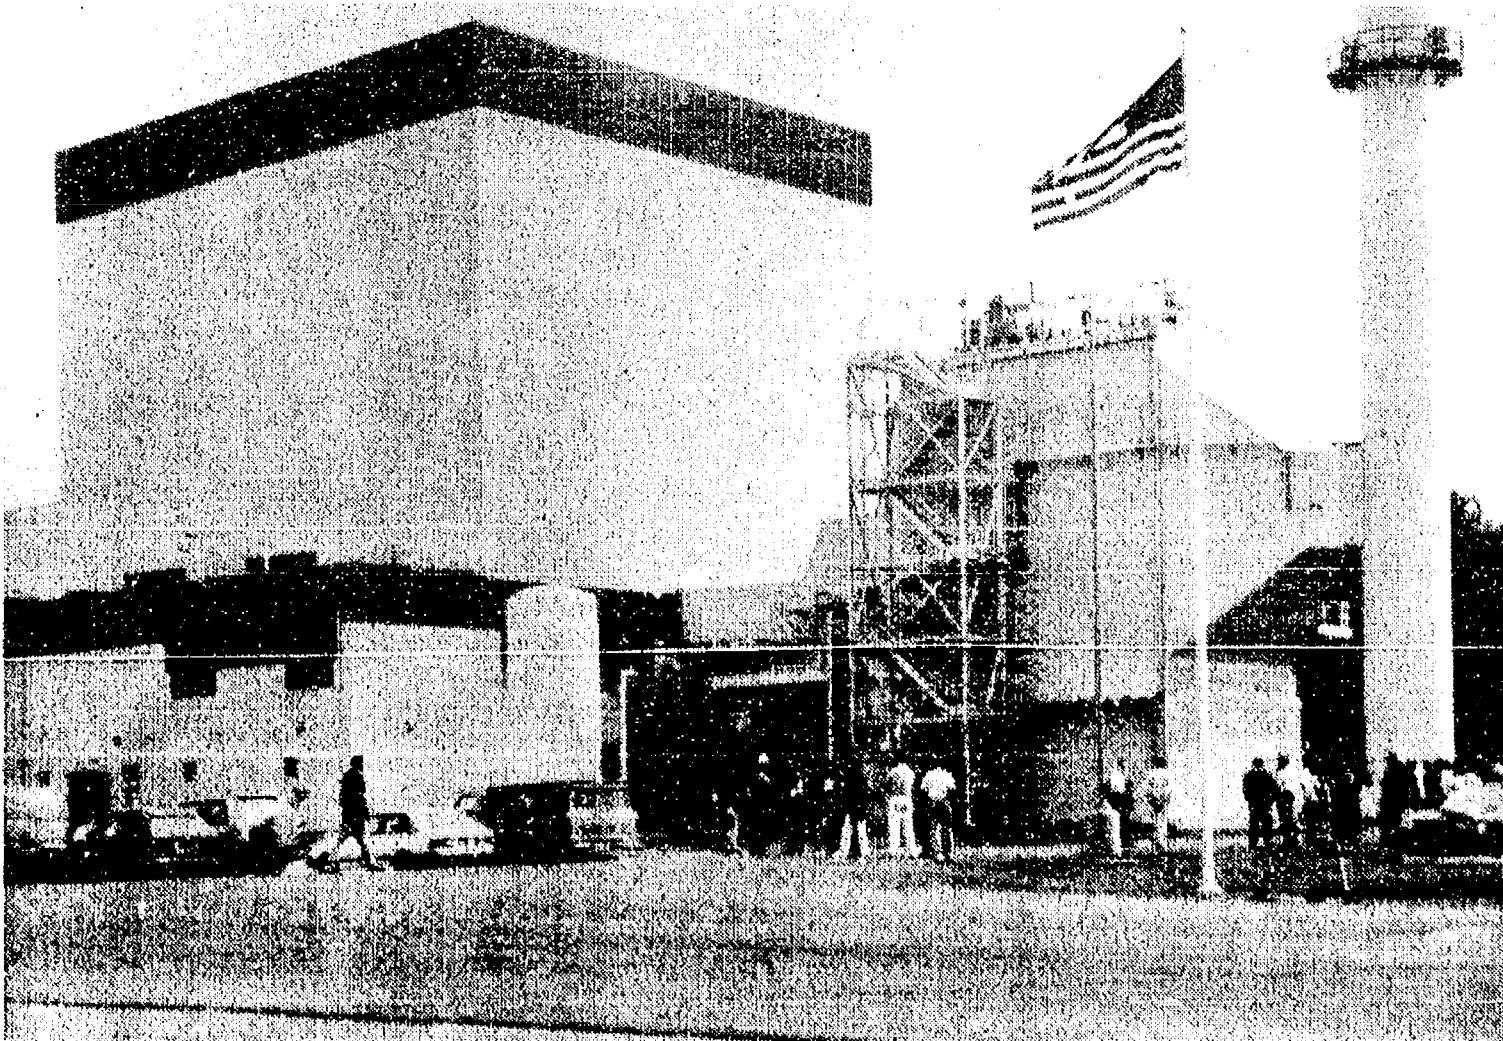

Caruso said it was odd to hear a plane out in that kind of weather and at that time of night. The crash site was about a half mile past his house.

"We didn't know there was a plane missing until Thursday when the kids saw the spotter plane and the helicopter."

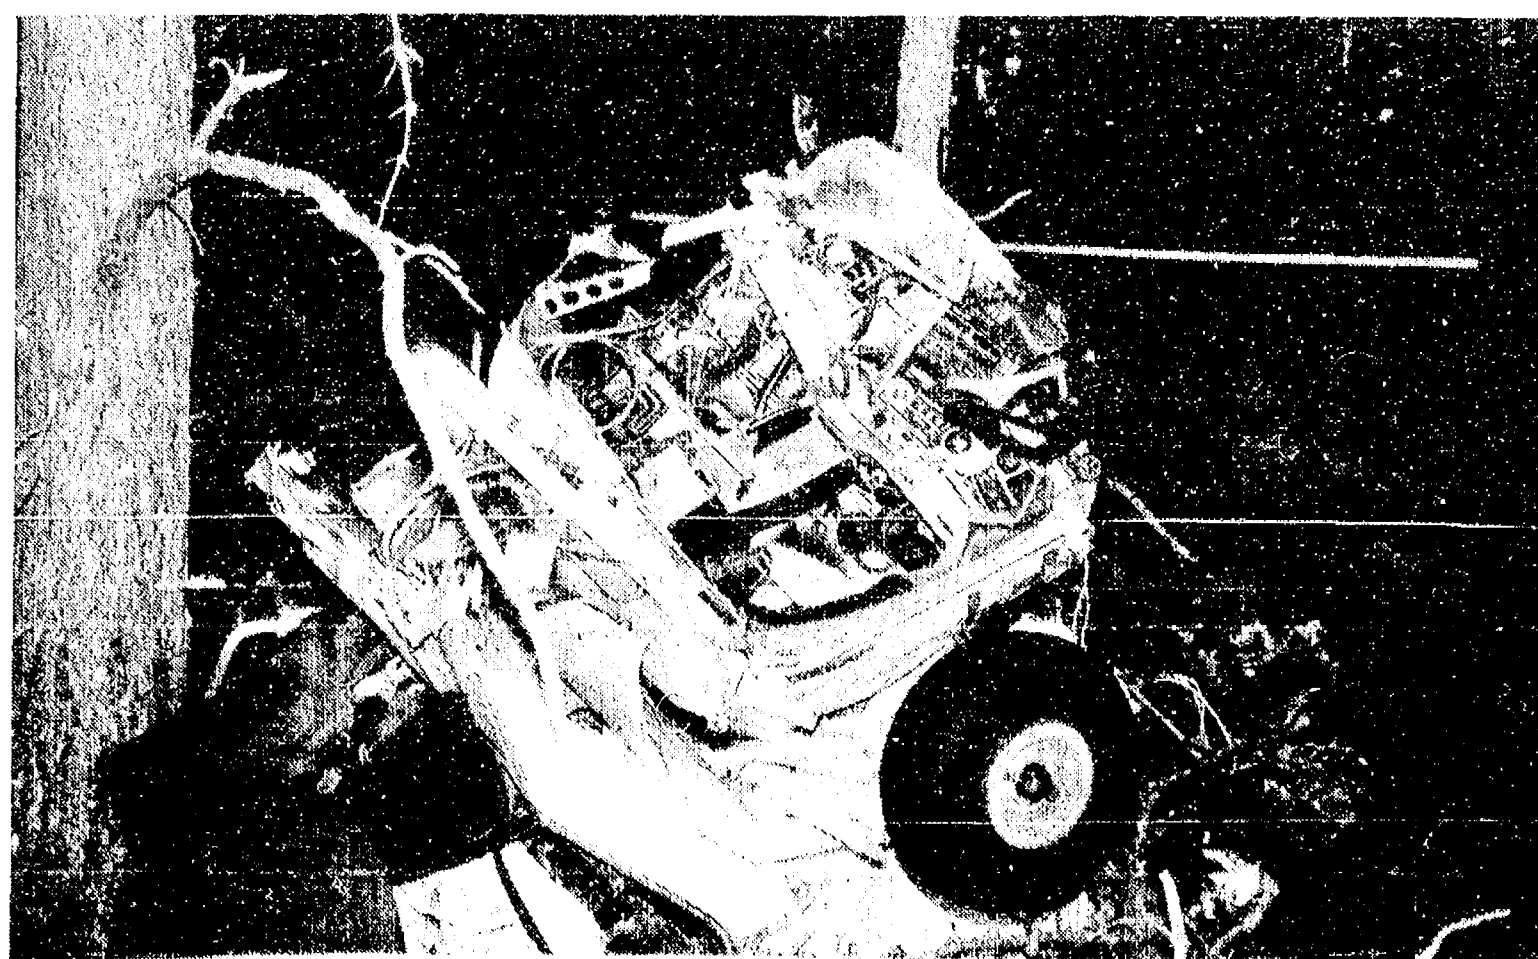

The cause of the accident, still unknown, may take up to two months to determine.

Charges will be sought in B & E

By Lori Swarthout

Breaking and entering charges will be sought against two young boys in connection with an incident which occurred approximately 8:40 p.m., August 9.

While Crawford County sheriff deputies approached the scene of the residential breaking and entering on Richardson Rd. near Whirlpool Rd. in Grayling Twp. Sunday night, two subjects fled on foot out of the rear of the residence. A Michigan State Police K-9 unit was dispatched to the scene from Gaylord to assist in the pursuit.

Two juvenile male subjects were observed walking along the roadway by the K-9 unit while enroute to the scene and identified as possible suspects. The K-9 unit then ran a successful track to the exact location where the two juveniles had been observed.

Both subjects were taken into custody and later released to their parents. Charges will be sought on both fifteen year old subjects, one from Grayling and one from Lowell.

Opinions

Let's Talk About It

By Joe Murphy

One of the greatest mysteries I have encountered is my attempt to make sense of the wheres, whys and therefore of the Indians, who lived in this country long before us. Take, for instance, the Serpent Mound in Ohio. It is the effigy of a snake, nearly a quarter mile from tip to tip with an average width of twenty feet, four to five feet high.

Who built it and why, I guess will always remain a mystery. When you think of the cubic yards of soil that it took to form it and the methods they must have employed, it becomes mind boggling. What motivation could there be for all the hard work involved in its building? Think of all those hand-carried baskets of sand it took to make it.

Why would people work that hard to build something they themselves could not see for it is only from high in the air that one can see it in its entirety. Was it built as an offering to their gods who they must have believed were looking down on Earth from high above. Or another theory could be a real or perceived threat from outer space and the serpent was built as a form of scarecrow. Was it to try to make those viewing Earth from high above believe Earth was inhabited by giant snakes? The Adena culture that is believed to have existed from 500 B.C. to 200 A.D. appears to have been the builders.

I like the way science gets everything all figured out and can almost give the date man first appeared on Earth, then evidence is found that predates that by a few thousand years. I read just the other day where they found a prehistoric skull that appeared to be human with a much larger brain capacity than man today. Did a super intelligent race once inhabit Earth? I guess we will never know, but when we read of their finding things that were accomplished in those days that man today with all his technology cannot duplicate, it makes you wonder.

Perhaps man today with laser beams could duplicate the ancient art of somehow making neat uniform holes in solid rock many feet deep that turned off at a precise angle such as has been found that supplied water to ancient ruins found in South America. Still, the question remains of how they did it. There is also evidence that brain surgery was successfully performed by prehistoric man, for skulls have been found with healed entry points.

It seems that just about all the ruins that have been found by man to date they say relates to worship or religions practices by ancient man. I have often thought what if the whole Earth was to have a disaster that struck the vast majority of mankind dead in their tracks. Then a thousand years later archaeologists discovered this building where many people sat before little cards with numbers on them. I wonder how they would interpret the significance of all those people playing Bingo. I am sure that number worship would be their answer.

I have set a goal of $3,000 in support of Jim Haller's Muscular Dystrophy Walkathon, so please, when you see me or displays of information on it, be as generous as possible; it could hit any one of us at any time. Let's show people that race once inhabit Earth? I guess we

Driver appalled at disrespect shown

To the two men in a red car July 28 on North Down River Road: Impatience and disrespect seem to be the common norm for most people in this day and age. People show impatience in waiting lines because they didn't allow themselves enough time or in offices because they didn't again allow time or do good scheduling. Then again, impatience is shown in our attitudes to society and businesses by our wanting everything our way or wanting it now. Disrespect is shown when we don't care for other people or their property; while being impatient, ignorant, and having nothing better to do with our time. I'm sure many of us have been in these situations but how we respond to them is a true mark of a good citizen — a Christian — an understanding person.

This little note is in reference to the two jerks — use of a more polite form — in a reddish car on July 28 at 12:20 p.m. driving east on North Down River Road near the I-75 overpass. Your actions that I witnessed and some other people saw too were appalling, degrading and plain disrespectful! You flew an American flag on your car and then stuck a certain finger out the window at a National Guardsman who was probably only doing what he was told to do. Your impatience in wanting to pass easily was rewarded within two minutes when you took the opportunity to show everybody your poor judgment. For two minutes you had to drive under the speed limit. What a shame!

I am only too glad that my young son was not with me to witness your thoughtlessness and ingratitude to others. I'm only sorry that I had to see it because of being in the vehicle directly in front of you and I had no choice. If you were so irate with having to go slower behind this National Guardsman then you should have complained to the one who issued his orders. When you display an American flag, it leads others to assume that you support the flag and what goes with it, which includes our guards. Have you forgotten in so short a time a war they were fighting last year or might be training for again so soon?

You ought to break your finger off so you won't have that problem anymore and then change your attitude to what is God-given, right and fair. I hope God will help to change your attitude and become more respectful and patient.

Are you also so disrespectful to senior citizens? Remember someday you'll be there, too, and maybe in the same situation, so how would you like to be treated?

If you are not happy here then there are other places you can go — first to God and then to another state or even another country. We need people to get back to living for God and what this country has stood for! You can start by setting a good example.

Allen responds to parade letter

Dear Mrs. Marcy Jurkovich;

I am writing in response to your letter to the editor entitled "Disappointed Grayling float wasn't in Cherry Festival" that was published in the July 22 issue of the Crawford County Avalanche. Enclosed in an article entitled "Local Businesses help restore Grayling float" also published in the July 22 issue of the Crawford County Avalanche.

You mentioned that you were previously a resident of the Grayling area. This being the case, you must certainly be aware that the Grayling float, nearly 20 years old, has withstood a great deal of exposure and wear and tear through the years. For that very reason it was necessary to limit the float's use until it could be repaired.

Since you did not seek information from the Grayling Chamber prior to your letter, I will inform you of the Traverse City parade committee's decision to not allow Miss Grayling to ride in a convertible for the "Grand Cherry Festival Parade," stating that cars were not allowed in the Grand Parade. Additionally, Miss Grayling was told she was not on the invitation list for the "Grand Parade;" however, was allowed entry in the Heritage Parade in Traverse City during the Cherry Festival week.

Our Miss Grayling, Christa Northrop, and her family were quite upset with your accusations that perhaps she is not doing her job. I have enclosed for your review a list of the activities, functions and engagements (15 in total in six different northern Michigan communities) Christa has participated in during her short six month reign as Miss Grayling.

I sincerely hope that if this information does nothing else, it makes you realize that "Pride in Grayling" is alive and doing very well. Perhaps you should come back and visit more often.

Women veterans deserve memorials

THE QUESTION OF women in military service has raised several problems, as witness the trouble the Navy currently is having with sexual harassment cases, and the question of treatment of women military personnel in the Persian Gulf conflict.

The fact is that women have served in and with the military forces of this country going back to Revolutionary days.

Finally a memorial to all women military veterans is off and running in the nation's capital.

Designs have been approved for the women's military memorial to be located near the entrance to Arlington National Cemetery, across the Potomac River from the Lincoln Memorial.

The design will include an auditorium, visitors center, registry, gallery, fountain, reflecting pool and other aspects of a fitting memorial.

CONGRESS AUTHORIZED the memorial back in 1986; raising $14 million in private donations is a goal so construction can begin by the end of 1993. The governments of Kuwait and Saudi Arabia have donated $850,000 each to the foundation — which is fitting considering the way those two societies treat women, including our military personnel during Desert Storm.

So far, 1,800,000 women have served in a military way from the American Revolution through the Persian Gulf war.

More than 200,000 women are on active military duty now; about 33,000 women served in Desert Storm.

So far, 60,000 names of women who have served have been registered with the Women in Military Service for America Memorial Foundation, Inc., in Washington.

MEANWHILE, BACK ACROSS the Potomac on the other side of the Lincoln Memorial, another memorial is being planned for women veterans — this one for those who served during the Vietnam War.

Groundbreaking is scheduled later this year, and dedication in 1993, for the memorial, which — according to word from the Department of Veterans Affairs — will be "the final chapter of the Vietnam Veterans Memorial."

The memorial will feature a multifigured bronze sculpture portraying three Vietnam era women military figures, one of them attending to a wounded male soldier.

Site for the memorial is near the statue of the three infantrymen on the grounds of the Vietnam Veterans Memorial near the Lincoln Memorial in Washington.

About 265,000 women served with the military during the Vietnam era, and more than 10,000 served in Vietnam.

Both memorial foundations are still looking for donations, large and small. It sounds like a worthy cause.

IMPRESSIVE — That's the word for American gymnast Betty Okino, performing with the U.S. gymnastic team during the Olympic Games in Barcelona.

Betty Okino was born in Uganda, raised in Romania, has lived in Chicago, and trained in Houston. She's 16 years old.

She was asked how it felt to be one of two blacks on the U.S. gymnastic team, along with Dominique Dawes of Silver Spring, Maryland.

Said young Ms. Okino: "I came to compete for my country, not for any certain race — black or white. I consider myself an American, not a color." Hurrah for Betty Okino. She's already a gold medal winner in my book.

River House shelter faces financial problems

For the last five years, River House Shelter has provided a safe place for over 1,700 women and children, residents of Crawford, Ogemaw, Oscoda, and Roscommon counties, who made probably the most difficult decision of their lives—to leave their homes. They left because they were no longer able to tolerate lives filled with violence and despair.

Not only have we been providing a safe home, food, clothing, counseling, transportation, financial assistance and legal advocacy, but we are continually responding to the needs of the community and developing new programs: support groups for women and children in each county, a mother/child wellness program for three-year-olds and their mothers, a youth coping skills project for K-5th graders, public education and in-service sessions on the dynamics of domestic violence, dating violence and date rape. We are currently developing a domestic violence task force. The goal is to coordinate responses of the legal, law enforcement and shelter systems to domestic calls and to design a program for batterers.

River House has become a key agency in the area turned to by DSS, CMH, ministers, teachers, community groups and private citizens for help and referrals for help.

Now we are turning to you for help.

The budget cuts by the federal and state governments, plus dwindling private dollars is threatening our future.

Most of us on the advisory board have been involved with River House since the beginning, others more recently. But we are all committed to the work that's being done and admire the staff and volunteers who help make the dream for a violence-free life a reality.

We are asking you for a cash donation to help us continue this important work. One of us would be more than happy to talk with you and answer any questions you might have.

Please help us.

Summer resident appreciates kindness of Grayling folks

As a summer resident and property owner in northern Michigan, I often drive through Grayling. On two different occasions I have had emergency car problems in this area. On each occasion I was treated with such respect and courtesy that I wanted to thank all the people of Grayling.

Especially, I want to thank Roger Moshier, owner of Moshier's Auto Repair. Roger is an excellent mechanic and a real gentleman. Both times I had car problems he came out in his truck in the evening and gave me superb service.

I also want to thank John McKenna, who was with Roger on the road call and Chris Wood of Shel-Haven. Chris went out of his way to give me the help I needed.

Also, I thank the owners of the Cedar Motel for providing a safe, comfortable place for me and my pet cat.

While it is never pleasant to have car problems, the kindness of the people in Grayling made my experience a happy one.

Thank you again.

Writer defends Range #40 near Guthrie Lake

To the people living at Guthrie Lake Estates:

I saw on TV, they have a Guthrie Assoc., chaired by Col. Carl Lord, Retired, Air Force.

All the people must be aggravated by the gunfire and bombing runs on the Camp Grayling Range #40.

If they had lived as residents of Crawford County, they should have known that Range #40 is 300m east of Guthrie Lake and has been there for many, many years.

But if you just moved up to Guthrie Lake, then blame the real estate agent that sold the property without informing you of the 300m fact.

Did you not check it out first?

R.S.V.P. seeks workers

The Retired Senior Volunteer Program is a national non-profit organization that works hard to promote seniors as important, viable members of their community.

As an RSVP volunteer, you can enjoy support while doing volunteer work. Supplemental liability protects you and some mileage or bus fare can be reimbursed.

Approximately 108 Crawford County RSVP volunteers donated 4,523 hours at 29 different agencies during April, May and June, resulting in a savings of $19,222.75 to our community.

If you are 60 years or over, why not become part of an elite group of persons who make many of the vital services of non-profit organizations possible? You have a lifetime of skills and talents to share with your community.

For the first time, the Department of Natural Resources (DNR) has scheduled two September elk hunts—September 9 through 15 and September 17 through 24—for Michigan's 1992 elk hunting season, with a third hunt scheduled for December 8 through 15.

With the hunts beginning earlier in the fall, applications to include the September elk hunts must be postmarked by August 1, earlier than in previous years. Those postmarked after that date, but by September 15, will be applied to the December hunt only.

"This will be the ninth consecutive year of elk hunting in Michigan in recent history," DNR Director Roland Harnes said. "Since 1984, hunters have harvested 1,126 elk. The ability to maintain regulated hunting, as well as providing opportunities for people to see elk in the wild, is another indication of the outstanding success we have had in managing the population of this magnificent animal."

Application forms to apply for the elk hunt licenses may be purchased for a nonrefundable $4 fee at more than 2,000 license dealers throughout Michigan beginning July 1.

Accompanying elk hunting guides will contain instructions for filling out the application forms. Only Michigan residents who will be 14 years of age on or before the first day of the hunt applied for will be eligible.

The DNR expects to receive more than 40,000 applications for the 270 elk licenses available this year—173 for the taking of antlerless elk only, and 97 hunter's choice licenses for taking either antlered or antlerless elk.

As in past years, applicants must select two application options—bull-only or any-elk. All applicants, regardless of which option they select, will have an equal chance of obtaining a hunter's choice license. Applicants who apply for the bull-only option will not be considered for antlerless-only licenses.

A random drawing will be held to determine which applicants will be issued elk hunting licenses. Successful applicants will be mailed registered letters by August 24, indicating the area where they may hunt and the type of license they will receive. Successful applicants for the December hunt will be notified by November 2.

Successful applicants are required to attend a special orientation session on the day before their hunt begins (September 8 or 16, or December 7), where they will receive instruction on elk biology, hunting regulations, hunting techniques, and elk distribution.

Michigan's native elk disappeared from the state about 1875. Today's herd dates back to 1918, when seven western elk were reintroduced in the state near Wolverine. The herd increased to the point where regulated hunting could be allowed in 1964.

ROTARY GUEST--Howard Simon, executive director of the American Civil Liberties Union (ACLU) speaks at the August 5 Rotary meeting to explain the purpose for and some of the activities of the 72-year-old organization. "Everybody ought to be an ACLU member," said Simon. "The country needs a non-political, principled group to be the watchdog of the government."

Regional DNR, DMA chiefs examine fire controls

Regional heads of the Departments of Natural Resources (DNR) and Military Affairs (DMA) met last week to review fire control measures employed during the mid-June fires on Camp Grayling's range impact areas.

The following information is provided, according to Camp Grayling's commander, Lieutenant Colonel Wayne Koppa, both to answer citizen concerns, and to clarify issues related to the fires of June 14-17 within the fenced-off range areas of Camp Grayling.

"DNR and DMA have worked extensively over the last few years on fire prevention and control measures, to include annual fire prevention meetings, mutual aid agreements, and actions to be taken in case of fire," said Koppa.

Fire control measures were put into place over successive years of interdepartmental coordination. These measures have again been reviewed at the local level and were found to be sufficient. As an example, pyrotechnic training devices were banned by Camp Grayling in late May, weeks before the fire.

Lt. Col. Koppa further explained methods that have improved in the last few years:

- Improvement of cleared fire breaks: Over fifteen miles of firebreak have been built and maintained around the fenced artillery area.

- Allocation of firefighting equipment and resources: Camp Grayling has a full-time fire department during the summer training months. The department was expanded to four crews during the June encampment period.

- Prescribed burning: The practice of annually preburning those areas likely to catch fire later in the season, namely the artillery range impact area. This eliminates the fuel source and fire risk during peak danger times.

Both departments have reviewed the circumstances of the June 1992 fires. Their findings were that the fires did not endanger homes or personal property while confined to the range. They were found to be well within the control measures in place through previous coordination between the two departments. Therefore, allegations that the fires were out of control were unfounded. A continuing effort will be conducted to remedy the problem of smoke drifting over residential neighborhoods.

"By monitoring the fire, as opposed to extinguishing the fire," emphasized Camp Grayling's Fire Chief, CPT Steve Green, "the fire performs a useful purpose, clearing last year's dry grass and brush, so it will not be a hazard later in the training year. Within the impact area and fire break, a controlled burn poses no real threat to those outside the area. However, we will work on measures to limit smoke in the future."

OPENING DAY CATCH—Chris McGuire, 8, of Grayling, caught this 24-inch brown trout on opening evening of trout season at the falls downtown. Chris caught this monster on a night crawler, and the same evening caught an 18 1/2-inch brown.

Cards of thanks

We would like to extend our appreciation to the AuSable River Festival Parade Committee for selecting Skip and I as Grand Marshalls of the parade, and to thank all those people who were so kind to us during the event. This will definitely stand out as one of the most significant things to have happened to us in our lives and are truly touched by the thought and honor bestowed on us. We have been life-long residents of Grayling and have very warm feelings for the citizens of our community and all those who come to visit. We hope it can always remain our home.

Sincerely,
Skip and Gail Madsen

Cards of thanks

In gratitude for the contribution given to us, we sincerely offer thanks to the Grayling High School Honor Society, under the leadership of Mike Dean. With the great annual success of the spaghetti dinner, these high school students donated time and dedication to earn money for our volunteer organization. For these young people who cared, we are truly grateful.

The Meadows Of Grayling News

By Carolyn Poll

On July 22, the Pierces, Caroline, 81, a resident of the facility, and husband, Emery, 88, celebrated 66 years of marriage. They were married in East Aurora, New York, eventually making St. Helen their home for the past 69 years. They have seven children, 16 grandchildren, 27 great grandchildren, and one great great grandson. Emery still rides his motorcycle, when the weather permits, to visit his wife.

On July 29, our hot dog-a-rama took place. Besides having hot dogs cooked on an outdoor grill, some of our families and volunteers brought in a favorite hot dog dish to share. The dishes included barbecued hot dogs, beans and franks, macaroni dog salad, and taco dog salad.

We also held our first wheelchair race, involving residents in one heat, staff in another. Overall winners were Amos Richards and Wally Ritter. The administrator Mark Grantner participated during staff races but became a better speed bump than a racer.

On August 4, nine residents took a trip to the Flowing Well Trout Farm. Thirteen fish were caught by the residents and baked and served that Friday. More residents plan to go fishing on the 14th of August.

August 6, at 7 p.m. Ron Pellitier from St. Helen came in to perform country style gospel music and minister to the residents.

On Friday, August 7, the Crawford County Animal Shelter brought in some cute little beagle puppies and kittens.

Our planned trip to Hartwick Pines for August 29 and 30 has been moved up to the 22nd and 23rd. Any questions, please call Carolyn Poll, 348-2801.

300-mile bike tour benefiting kids to pass through county on Friday

The fifth annual Wish-A-Mile Bicycle Tour will begin with a sunrise ride over Michigan's Mackinac Bridge on August 14, and end on August 16. The tour will pass through Crawford County late in day 1. The challenging 300-mile ride will benefit the Make-A-Wish Foundation of Michigan, a non-profit organization dedicated to granting wishes to children with life-threatening illnesses.

The Make-A-Wish Foundation of Michigan was organized in 1984 to fulfill the wishes of children, three to 17, who are threatened by life-threatening illnesses. "Our goal is to bring a bright spot into each child's life, a brief respite from doctors and hospitals," said Marilyn Hughes, co-chair of the Grand Rapids Make-A-Wish Council. "The future can't be changed... but we can make the present a little brighter by making a child's dream come true."

Wishes are considered without regard to gender, race, ethnic origin or religious preference. The children's wishes fall into four categories; trip wishes, meeting celebrities, fulfilling an occupational dream, or receiving a special gift. Many times, wishes must be granted quickly, sometimes overnight. At an average cost of $3,500 per wish, each of the 11 local councils are challenged to keep funds flowing. Because of the small administrative staff and the primarily volunteer organization, 85¢ out of each dollar contributed goes to granting wishes. The Wish-A-Mile 300 Bicycle Tour is the organization's largest state-wide fundraiser.

According to Nanette Trimpe, Executive Director headquartered at the Make-A-Wish Foundation office in Lansing, communities have been highly supportive of the event and turn out to cheer the cyclists.

"Our greatest moments on the bicycle tour have been seeing supportive smiles and hearing cheers along the way. The most gratifying are those of our wish children and their families... they are our true inspiration."

Interested cyclists can receive a Wish-A-Mile 300 brochure and application form by calling 1-800-622-9474. For information about sponsoring a cyclist or volunteering during the ride, call 1-800-622-9474 for the name of the Make-A-Wish council nearest you.

"You can't go through life without a plan."

You can't predict the future. But you can plan for it with Allstate Life Insurance. Together you and I will work out a life insurance program. Providing the proper protection for you and your family. I want to be your agent for Life.

St. John honors council members

Another Centennial Sunday was observed at St. John Lutheran Church, August 9. Guest speaker was Rev. James Kocher, Assistant to the Bishop, Western Michigan Synod ELCA. The Council members, past and present, were recognized for their sincere dedication to be necessary caretakers of the Church. The first chairman of the first board in 1892 was Olaf Sorenson. The current president is Marilyn French. For years only men were allowed to serve. That is no longer true. Men and women now serve as equals.

Pastor Mike Kemper presented each council member present with a biblical book mark as a memento. The flowers on the altar were red carnations to be presented to all present members of the board. After service, a sandwich luncheon was enjoyed.

The next Centennial Sunday will be September 15, when the Sunday School and teachers will enjoy a picnic.

Verse or Worse

By Joe Murphy

Is Summer Gone?

Today is the first of August
Fall and winter are drawing nigh
I must have overslept one morning
Missing summer as it sailed by

For only yesterday it was winter
Looking forward so to spring
We dreamed of all the fun we'd have this summer
And those nice warm days that it would bring

Now here it is nearly fall
So it must be summer has come, and gone
I wonder how it could have happened
When I've been up each day at dawn

Maybe this year we'll have an Indian summer
With bright colors seen through autumn's haze
With a nice warm sun shining
Before those cold nasty winter days

When that cold north wind is blowing
And winter's snow piles up outside my door
I'll still be dreaming of those nice warm summers
That I recall in those days of yore

I almost hope for an old fashioned winter
The kind I remember in those days gone by
For I guess if we do not really have a winter
Summer will also be a lie

I hope next year when summer comes
Everyone is wearing a great big smile
And summer thinks, why not join these friendly folks
And decides to stick around awhile

A Look At Our Past from the pages of the Avalanche

The new Crawford County Building will become a reality starting Monday, August 18, when the moving of the different offices begin.

It is expected it will take the full week to complete the transition. During this time only limited essential services will be handled by the various county officials.

The building will contain 25,440 square feet as compared to 10,312 in the present courthouse. Besides housing the present offices, the new Courthouse will have rooms for the Health Department, County Superintendent of Schools, County Agent and Draft Board, all of whom do not have office space at the present.

Also, all the jail facilities will be under one roof, including living quarters, office space and the jail itself.

Father William McKnight, pastor of Grayling St. Mary's church had a hole in one at the Grayling Country Club last Saturday, August 9.

Others playing in the foursome were: Charles Vajda, Carl H. Neilson and Chuck Bonamic.

Fr. McKnight's ace was on No. 3 hole, a 145 yard, par 3. He used a 7 iron on the shot.

Besides the ace, he birdied No. 6 and 9 finishing with a 33 on the par 36 course. This is the first hole in one this year at the local club.

The Bible Speaks

From The National Suicide?

Lawrence Auster in his book The Path to National Suicide: An Essay on Immigration and Multiculturalism stated: "Multiculturalism should be understood as an attempt . . . to tear down, discredit and destroy the shared story that has made us a people and impose on us a different story which tells our civilization and past history are essentially evil. The goal, to put it brutally, is the creation of compliant citizens of a new social order, whose feelings toward the pre-1965 America and its heroes (to the extent that they know anything about them at all) will be contempt, guilt or indifference."

All consistent government laws are based upon some foundation of morality and values. Historically, American culture was founded upon God and the Bible. In the past we have been "One Nation Under God," but today, diversity has replaced unity as the drumbeat of this age. The multiculturalists believe all cultures are enriching and valuable to America and must be given equal treatment. Immorality in mass media is replacing the morality of the Bible. In place of the Sunday school teacher, lyrics from rock music determine values for many in the next generation.

Everyone over 40 can testify to the drastic changes America has undergone. Past national heroes like Washington, Jefferson, Madison, and Lincoln are being ignored, discredited, and replaced whenever possible. There is the deliberate promotion of ignorance concerning the virtue of God and the Bible in the philosophical and historical roots of American culture. Those traditional policies and practices still dominating our national culture are being deliberately discredited and destroyed.

One important purpose of our column in the Avalanche is to promote public awareness of the scope and logic of God's revealed truth in the Bible. For about 20 years we have written articles on nearly every subject relevant to American life. We firmly believe that God's infallibly inspired Bible gives answers in precept or principle to every human need. We believe this Christian philosophy gives the most consistent and coherent explanation of all the facts in the universe.

Historically, in spite of our many national sins and shortcomings, our Christian world and life view has led America to greatness. May God empower and motivate us as a nation to return in precept and practice to the old covenant of our forefathers: "Yet they seek me daily, and delight to know my ways, as a nation that did righteousness, and forsook not the ordinance of their God; they ask of me the ordinances of justice; they take delight in approaching to God." (ISA 58:2).

Climbing Higher

One step at a time...you could climb high, high up, or fall far, far down...depending on this ladder and how you use it.

There are certain tips on ladder climbing that are essential. First, it must be sturdy...built with care from quality materials. Second, it must be set on solid ground, not in "wishy-washy" sand or on wobbly rocks. Third, but very important, it never hurts to have someone dependable holding that ladder so you don't fall. (Of course, they will also be there if you do!)

And so it is with spiritual "climbing". We must have a sturdy faith set on solid foundation of the regular study of God's Word.

As you climb the steps to the door of God's house this Sabbath, you may feel safe and secure. In Psalms 91:14 is His promise. "Because he has loved Me, therefore I will deliver him; I will set him securely on high, because he has known My name."

By the way, always remember... never look down. You need not, for God is holding your ladder.

Strolling Around Town

by Fay Bovee

Thanks to my readers who encourage me to keep making comments about the appearance of the city. Some of the comments that I hear about it are very complimentary; unfortunately I can do little about it except to notice those who do make their contribution to beautification.

Dr. Hough has his same corner plantings that always show up going down Michigan Avenue as well as well-kept lawn and shrubbery. A couple more places on Michigan that do a lot of yard work are the Lamies in the former LaGrow or Harland house. They keep adding more plantings every year and next door are Clyde and Deanne Weiss who had their place landscaped several years ago and like to keep it up.

Several more places on the business loop should be mentioned: the bright red petunias in front of the McGuires' Cedar Motel, the petunias in front of Jansen's Plumbing, and the Shell station now has yellow marigolds spilling from a barrel. Albie's shrubbery on the corner of M-72 also is in bloom with yellow flowers—I always forget the name of that particular bush which seems to blossom continually most of the summer.

The corner of Park and Ionia has the McEvers working hard to keep the trees growing that they have planted in recent years and always some flowers in beds. Across the corner, Nancy Cox is trying hard for an old-fashioned garden while Rene Trudgeon in the old Sorenson house is hard at work remodeling—the past year has seen new steps and porch there as well as much interior work. Kolkas on the corner of Maple always have flowers around their trees and in planter boxes.

We realize Grayling sand is a difficult medium for growing anything but it can be done. Let's all pitch in and make it a cleaner city, as well as an attractive one.

NEW LOCATION-- Volunteers Ginnie Dibble and Jack Dibble pack bags of food at the Crawford County Community Christian Health Center, which recently moved to its new location at 306 James Street. Funds for a one-year lease came from an Emily George grant through Mercy Hospital, said Gerry Schroeder, volunteer coordinator and board member. Food pantry hours are Monday, Wednesday, Friday, 11 a.m.-3 p.m.

"We offer emergency and/or temporary help with food needs," said Schroeder. "We don't want anybody to starve and one-time walk-ins are accepted, but we're not a permanent thing. We'll refer people to the right agency."

Started by the Crawford AuSable Ministerial Association, the food pantries were formerly housed at the Michelson Memorial Methodist Church, St. Mary Catholic Church and St. Francis Episcopal Church.
